Web Privacy Statement

Web Privacy Statement

Last Updated: 11/28/2023

Main Line Health (MLH) has created this statement to demonstrate our commitment to online privacy. It discloses our information-gathering and dissemination practices for this website.

Collection of Information

Information you give to us:

You may visit our website without submitting any information about yourself. However, we do collect certain information you choose to provide to us. This includes information you provide when you send us email or subscribe to one of our online publications, you register for an event, or make a donation. This also includes information you submit on forms, such as appointment request forms. Some forms collect sensitive information, such as health information, necessary for us to provide our services to you.

Please note that Main Line Health will not respond to any question concerning a specific medical or health condition submitted through this site. If you submit such a request you will receive a standard response recommending that you consult with your own health care professional. We will not intentionally share the contents of this type of an email with any third party; however, due to the nature of electronic communications, we cannot and do not provide any assurances that the contents of your email will not become known or accessible to third parties. We urge you not to provide any confidential information about yourself or your health to us via electronic communication, unless we have explicitly requested said information and it is within a secure section of our website. If you do so, it is at your own risk.

For more information about how Main Line Health handles patient privacy and specific patient information, please visit our Notice of Privacy Practices (HIPAA).

Information we collect automatically if you agree:

We may use cookies, session ID, and/or similar technologies on our online services, electronic communications and advertisements that automatically receive and track certain data about how you and other visitors interact with our online services, preferences expressed and settings chosen. For example, we may collect information about your device (such as your device and browser type, your device screen size, operating system, IP address, mobile network carrier, and device and advertising identifiers), your geolocation, and your use of our online services (such as access dates and times, online features or pages viewed, the preferred language to display on the website, system activity and the third-party site or service you were using before interacting with our online services). In some cases we do this through the use of cookies, session ID, pixel tags, SDKs and/or similar technologies that create and maintain unique identifiers.

Use of Information

We may use the information described above as necessary or useful to provide, support, personalize, and develop our website, products, and services, including as follows:

- We use the personal information you provide through the website for the purposes for which such information was provided.
- To create, maintain, customize, and secure your account with us.
- To process your donations and related transactions.
- To respond to your inquiries, including to investigate and address your concerns and monitor and improve our responses.
- To personalize your website experience and to deliver content and product and service offerings relevant to your interests, including targeted offers and ads through our website, third-party sites, and via email or text message.
- To help maintain the safety, security, and integrity of our website, services, other technology assets, and business.
- To develop and improve our website and services.
- To respond to law enforcement requests and as required by applicable law, court order, or governmental regulations.
- As described to you when collecting your personal information or as otherwise set forth in this privacy statement.

We may disclose your personal information to third parties who provide us with various business services, including processing payments, scheduling appointments, and preparing newsletters and mailings. We may also share your information with our affiliated entities or transfer your information in connection with a merger, sale of assets or bankruptcy.

We also collect usage data with respect to the site and may generate aggregate or de-identified data that does not contain your personally identifiable information. We are not restricted in use of such data. We may also combine your information with data we receive from other sources, with the third party data subject to any restrictions specified by such sources.

Third-Party Links

This site contains links to other sites. We are not responsible for their privacy practices or content. In some cases, you will be asked to "accept" or "decline" a statement dealing with this. You should review the privacy policies and terms of use of any third-party site before providing any information.

Online advertising and visitor analytics

Main Line Health utilizes a data analytics provider on its web properties to track the effectiveness and relevance of our website to visitors. The data analytics provider utilizes the anonymized data collected to track and examine the use of mainlinehealth.org.

Minors

We are committed to protecting children's privacy on the internet, and we do not knowingly collect personal information from children.

Do Not Track (DNT)

Some web browsers may transmit "do-not-track" signals to websites with which the browser communicates. Our online services do not currently respond to these "do-not-track" signals.

International Users

If you are visiting our website from outside the United States, please be aware that information you submit or that we otherwise obtain about you through the site will be stored on our servers in the United States. By using this website, you consent to the transfer and processing of your personal data in the United States. Please note that data protection laws and regulations applicable to your personal data in the United States may be different from the laws of the country where you currently are located.

Changes to this Privacy Statement

We may change this privacy statement from time to time. If we make significant changes in the way we treat your information, or to this privacy statement, we will provide you notice through the relevant online services or by some other means, such as e-mail. Your continued use of our online services after such notice constitutes your consent to the changes. We encourage you to periodically review this privacy statement for the latest information on our privacy practices.
